Ar the meeting of the Sanitary Board on Thursday the important questions of closing polluted wells and preventing the pollution of reservoirs were dealt with. A large number of wells in the colony are polluted and their 26th June. water is utterly unfit for drinking purposes, The question is whether these wells should be closed at once, or whether they should be allowed to be used until other means of water supply are made accessible to those now dependent on them. One of the members of the Board said that between two byils he would choose the lesser, and he was therefore in favour of polluted water rather 3735 3738 than none at all. Another member remind. ed the Board that the Chinese were not in lany sense water drinkers, intending apparently to suggest the inference that of polluted water to the Chinese is not so dangerous as it would be in the consumers were Europeans. It is very rarely that a Chinaman drinks water; he 3936 3937 3938 will rinse his mouth out with it, but will 3951 3953 3954 3955 seldom swallow it; for drinking he mus 39% have tea, and in the process of boiling to 4009 4010 4011 make the ten polluted water has most of its deleterious properties destroyed. Polluted wells are therefore less of an evil than they would be were it not for the Chinaman's custom of drinking ten instead of water.

4140 4141 4148 So much may be granted, but it does not ne-4166 | cessarily follow that polluted wells under such 4206 circumstances can be permitted to remain 4213 4214, 4220 4221 open with impunity. If wells are known to be polluted, and if there 4428 be any reasonable possibility of providing 4438 4442 4445 other supplies, the wells ought to be closed forthwith. It can hardly be contended that 4495 4497 4498 at this time of the year there would be any difficulty in providing other supplies. The Penang Gazette says:-We are informed that two tin mines in Perak belonging to one of the largest mine owners there have closed, and that many of the miners have been thrown out of work. So long as the price of tin was as high as it was two months ago, it paid to work those mines. Now it does not, and they have to be abandoned. Many small mines are also closed. What we said long ago has come to pass. An immense impulse was given to mining owing to prices being artificially forced up, and mines were opened in every direction; but the re-action came with a force that the miners never thought possible, and rain has followed. This will always be the result of unreal and artificial prosperity.

NAGASAKI. The Russian man of war Razboinick arrived at Nagasaki from America via Honolulu on the 20th June, and was expected to leave for Wladivostock in a few days. The U. S. S. Richmond has, the Nagasaki Express says, received telegraphic orders that she is to proceed home round the Cape, although it will probably be at least two months before she actually leaves the station. A native barber named Yamashita Suyekichi Lourenco, occupied by the late Mr. M. Higashi-hamano-machi, has, the Nagasaki | MURRAY. Express says, been sentenced at the local Crimi- For Further Particulars, apply to nal Court to 18 months' imprisonment, for per-and Vladivostock, and return in about five months. It is, however, not yet settled whether the return yoyage will be made via Hokkaido from Vladivosteck or by way of Iki and Tsushima. The navel-authorities intended some time ago barry out some such craise, but were prevented by various circumstances, so that this will be the first visit of a Japanese squadron to foreignports.—Nagasaki Express.

YOKOHAMA. :

The Japan Gasette of the 19th instant says: The British squadron now in port will, we hear, leave at the end of the week ou a six days' ornise to meet the new flagship, H.M.S. Insperieuse, when the vessels will all return again to this port in review order. We also learn that it has been decided that for the future all H.M. ships in the Far East are to be painted black, both hulls and masts; the reason for this change is probably to avoid being so easily detectby the electric search lights.
